

From data bottlenecks to business breakthroughs

XactShare

Are complex data pipelines and engineering bottlenecks delaying your analytics initiatives? XactShare™ eliminates these obstacles by delivering your company's data seamlessly to Snowflake—already structured, cleansed, and ready for analysis. With over 600+ fields from XactInsights™ available from day one, you'll start generating valuable insights immediately.

How we solve your data challenges

Frictionless data sharing

- Say goodbye to pipeline complexity and access your data directly within Snowflake
- Make smarter decisions faster with perfectly structured data at multiple levels of granularity
- Understand your data completely through our comprehensive data dictionary—no more guesswork

Real-time intelligence

- Stay one step ahead of trends with XactAnalysis® data refreshed daily
- Respond to market changes quickly using the latest information from XactInsights
- Transform customer experiences with up-to-date reports from ClaimXperience®

Zero implementation hurdles

- Start analyzing today—even without a Snowflake account (we'll provide a reader account)
- Keep using the tools you love with seamless integration into your existing analytics workflow
- Scale confidently as your business grows, knowing your data foundation is secure and reliable

Why our clients see immediate results

Data you can truly trust

We obsess over data quality so you don't have to. Through rigorous cleansing, standardization, and enrichment, we deliver information you can confidently use to make critical business decisions from day one.

Impact without the wait

Your data arrives securely in your Snowflake account daily, creating immediate synergy with your existing data assets. No more waiting weeks for insights—access what you need through the reporting tools you already use and start driving results right away.

Your data team's new best friend

When your data engineers are stretched thin, it's challenging to develop custom data pipelines. XactShare changes that dynamic completely. Your team can finally focus on analysis rather than data preparation, with documented datasets instantly available when you need them.

Tomorrow's analytics advantage today

While others are still building basic pipelines, you'll be extracting actionable insights that drive your business forward. We're not just helping you solve today's data challenges; we're helping you prepare you for tomorrow's opportunities.

Ready to elevate your analytics capabilities?

Contact your account executive or customer success manager today to request access to XactShare and start turning your data challenges into business advantages.

